The Knights of Pythias of this city

their castle hall to commemorate the forty-sixth anniversary of the foun-dation of the order. After an informa meeting, during which the member forty-sixth anniversary of the foundation of the order. After an informal meeting, during which the members of the two lodges mingled in fraternal greeting and intercourse, the Knights were formed into line, wearing the Pythian colors, and led by the past chancellors marched in a body to the Second Presbyterian Church to attend divine service with that congregation. A special and very able sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. D. H. Rolston, in which he laid stress upon the fact to those enrolled under the Pythian tri-colored banner of friendship that the greatest friend that man will ever know, the Friend who laid down His life for those whom He loved, is our Lord and Master Jesus Christ.

Confirmation by Bishop Tacker.

The Rt. Rev. B. D. Tucker, D. D. Coadjutor Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, preached to a very large congregation in the Church of the Good Shepherd last night and confirmed a class of seven candidates—four males and three females. The bishop delivered a powerful and impressive discourse. He will return to Petersburg next Sunday to administer the rite of confirmation at St. John's Church. It is expected that during or shortly after Lent classes will be presented for confirmation at the other Episcopal churches.

Mrs. Eliza Jane Hall, widow of Albert P. Hall, died this morning at the advanced age of eighty-nine years at the residence of 1er daughter. Mrs. Laura J. Gunn, on West High Street. She had been in feeble health for some time. Mrs. Hall was greatly esteemed and beloved by a large circle of friends in the community. She is survived by two sons—william Hall, of Manchester, and Isaac Hall. of Petersburg, and by three daughters. Mrs. Ary Risbic, Mrs. Laura J. Gunn and Miss Elien Hall, all of this city, and by a number of grand and great-grandchildren.

Miss Alice Butler, daughter of S. A. Butler, of Ettrick, a very popular and attractive young woman, died at her home in that village yesterday.

Three Cut is a Fight.

In a street fight in Pocahontas Saturday night three negroes were more or less severely cut, one of them by a cident, and Joseph Harris iz under arrêst, charged with the cutting. Details of the affair are rather obscure. The trouble occurred between Harris and Henry and Emmett Willis, two brothers, both of whom received severe cuts about the hands, arms and head. They were not able to appear in court this morning to tell all about it. The wife of Harris was also slightly cut, presumably by accident while trying to separate the combatants.

May Have Broken Ilis Parole.
John Warranton, a white citizen, who some six on more years age, was convicted in the Hustings Court of this city of the attempt—murder of his wife in the public sirect, and was sentenced to term of ten years in the pentientiary, was released from that institution a month or six weeks ago on parole. He had been such a model prisoner and had behaved so well that it was thought he was entitled to discharge. He returned to Petersburg, resumed work at his trade of painting, married again and, it was thought settled down to a quiet and useful life. But on Saturday night he became very disorderly, as is alleged, requiring two police officers and several citizens to get him under control and take him to the station house. The penitentiary authorities were notified of Warranton's conduct, and Assistant Superintendent Lamb came over today to look into the matter. The case was called to the attention of the judge of the Hustings Court, who will look into the law and see it Warranton's to preaking his parole.

Negro Faially Shoots His Wife.
Abraham Mason, a negro employe of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, shot and, it is believed, fatally wounded his wife, Jennie Mason, this atternoon at their home on Dunlop Street, in the western part of the city. Mason had been drinking and picked a quarrel with his wife about the payment of their life insurance premiums, both hoiding policies in a local company. The insurance collector had called for the premiums, and the woman wanted to settle up on both policies. To this the husband objected, and, becoming angry, quarreled with his wife and threatened to kill her if she paid the money, and cursed her for doing so. He ran to his room, got his pistol, and, returning, placed the muzzle against her stomach and fired. Mason was quickly arrested and lodged in fall to await the result of his wife's injuries, the extent of which cannot be stated. The vlace and the nature of the wound lead to the belief that it will be fatal.

Charge Against Rev. T. N. Potts Is Dis-

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Williamsburg, Va., February 21.—
Rev. Thomas N. Potts, who was recently indicted by the grand jury for failure to properly feed certain live stock on "Spratley's" farm, of which he has charge, was tried by Justice of the Peace Frank Avers, and the charge he has charge, was tried by Justice of the Peace Frank Ayers, and the charge against him dismissed. This after-noon the defense proved that the sheep which have died in large numbers were suffering from a strange malady, and not from starvation, it was shown that Dr. Potts had purchased large quanties of feed for the animals, and that it had been given them in abund-ance.

The court, in rendering the verdict, said that the evidence clearly vindicated Dr. Potts. The case has attracted wide interest, owing to the prominence of the defendant, who has been a Methodist minister for twenty-six years. He is now located in Norfolk, and is one of the most widely known members of the Methodist Conference.

PROHIBITION LAW VIOLATED.

Barrel of Whiskey Reaches Wadesboro Cousigned to a Non-Resideut. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Wadesboro, N. C., February 21.—Violators of the prohibition law are becoming more and more open in their operations, and seem to have little fear of prosecution. Last week a barrel containing 100 pints of liquor was shipped here by freight, and consigned to a man who left this town years ago. The liquor was taken from the depot by another man, but before the officers had the opportunity of getting at him, the liquor had disappeared and only the empty barrel was secured. The town officers did not act until private clitzens secured a search warrant. In all probability the case of the above barrel will go to the Federal court, as it is a violation of Federal law to ship to other than the real purchaser.

It is easily the cleverest, for Max Bloom is far ahead of other comedians who have recently appeared at the Broad Street house. Besides Max there are several others in the cast who would make anybody laugh.

There is just enough plot in the play to make it interesting. A young college sport falls in love with a charming girl, who has a sister living in hopes of becoming a leading lady. The cid man decides that he doesn't want any "Salomies" in his family, so he begins to kick. After a couple of bottles and a bird he comes around all right, and, of course, all ends well. Grace Manlove and Carolyn Ryan, the two leading women, acted well and was there in all shapes and sizes, and managed to keep the bald-headed row guessing all the while.

The songs were extra good, and to keep up with the Gay White Way there was a real rain storm, in which all the chorus lades were caught. In the second act they took a swim. Taking the performance as a whole, the audience certainly got its money's worth.
